

DEUTSCHE ZENTREN DER
GESUNDHEITSFORSCHUNG

DZG Lunchtime Career Talks

Role models share their advice - discover your future career

VIRTUAL TALK SERIES

Driving forward
translational projects –
Working as a technology scout

24.06.2025 1pm

Bettina Otto

Thomas Marek Wallach

Charité BIH Innovation

#ForschenfürGesundheit

www.deutschezentren.de

DEUTSCHE ZENTREN DER
GESUNDHEITSFORSCHUNG

Bettina Otto has a background in biology, having earned her PhD from the University of Cambridge. Since 2017, she has been involved in technology transfer at various German universities. In 2022, she joined Charité BIH Innovation as a Technology Scout and Technology Manager. In 2024, she transitioned to the role of Startup Consultant and Technology Scout within Charité BIH Innovation.

Thomas Marek Wallach has been doing biomedical research at the Charité - Universitätsmedizin Berlin, after studying biology at the Free University of Berlin and the Rockefeller University. In May 2022, he moved to Charité BIH Innovation (CBI), the joint technology transfer office of Charité and the Berlin Institute of Health (BIH), to combine his interest in basic/clinical research, innovation and commercialization. Since August 2023, Thomas also serves as the administrator of a collaborative research center initiative at the Charité.

Registration

Contact

Dr. Leonie Herrmann
Deutsches Zentrum für
Diabetesforschung (DZD)
herrmann@dzd-ev.de